

Women's Law Center of Maryland
Communications Internship Posting
12/1/2020

The Women's Law Center offers internships and externships for undergraduate students throughout the year and over the summer. WLC is seeking a Communications Intern for Spring 2021. The intern will be responsible for working on a variety of projects and tasks under the supervision of WLC staff members. Projects may include social media outreach, event planning, public relations, designing outreach and promotional materials, and data entry. Graphic design, video/photography, and online design experience and skills are a plus. This is a remote internship while our office remains partially closed due to COVID 19.

Interns are expected to commit 10 to 15 hours per week. Unfortunately, due to limited resources, funding is not available for these internships. However, the hours can be flexible and part-time applicants are encouraged to apply. Supervision for college credit externships is available.

If you would like to apply for an internship, please download an internship application and submit it to Director of Development and Communications, Toni St. John, at tstjohn@wlcmd.org with a cover letter and resumé:
