

Women's Law Center of Maryland
Development Internship Posting
12/14/2020

The Women's Law Center offers internships for undergraduate and graduate students throughout the year. WLC is seeking a Development Intern (or a supervised externship for credit). The intern will be responsible for working on a variety of projects and tasks under the supervision of the WLC Director of Development and Communications. Projects may include event planning, social media outreach, marketing, direct mail, and assisting with other fundraising efforts. This would be a remote position while safety measures remain in place in our offices.

Interns are expected to commit 10 to 15 hours per week. Unfortunately, due to limited resources, funding is not available for these internships. However, the hours can be flexible and part-time interns are encouraged to apply. If you would like to apply for an internship, please download an internship application and submit it with a cover letter and resumé to tstjohn@wlcmd.org. Internship application available at www.wlcmd.org/wp-content/uploads/2013/08/internshipapplication.pdf
